MURDERED MAN FROM FAIRFIELD

William Daywalt, Waynesboro Policeman Murdered Tuesday Night, Former Resident of Near Fairfield, his Slayer Killed.

Abe Barnes, the slayer of Policeman Daywalt, of Waynesboro, died at 12:45 Wednesday afternoon from injuries sustained when State Policeman Curtis Davies shot him while making the arrest.

It was after midnight when Sheriff Walker and Davies, accompanied by a posse, reached the Barnes home. Upon their appearance the Barnes boys opened fire. Some of their bullets barely missed the sheriff and his men. The party returned to Waynesboro and early next morning renewed their efforts to arrest Daywalt's murderer.

Approaching the Barnes home they saw a team driven by Barnes' sister, Rose, going in the direction of a house where the outlaws had gone into hiding. Davies got into the wagon and ordered the girl to drive ahead.

Davies had his rifle in his hand.
They came near the home of Abe Barnes and as they approached Abe himself came from the side of the building to meet his sister, and Bill was just behind him. The older Barnes carried a Winchester pump rifle. His brother also had a rifle in his hands.

The two boys did not know Davies and came toward the buggy, slowly. If Rose gave them any sign it is not known but they halted. Davies called to them:

"Boys come here, I want you. I am a State officer."

"I die before you get me" called Abe as he pointed his rifle at the policeman's heart. Abe was standing with his left side toward Davies and was backing toward the mountain, with Bill behind him. Just as Abe threw the gun into position to shoot, Davies fired, hitting Abe in the left side of the back and dropping him to the ground.

"Drop that gun or I'll shoot you too" called the Corporal to Bill and seeing his danger, the man obeyed.
Getting from the buggy Davies and William Barnes and the girl carried the wounded man into his house and then the posse came.

On their way toward the Barnes house Sheriff Walker and his party heard the shot and knew something was up. As they hastened down the declivity Davies called "This way boys, come on, come on." They hastened and got to the place as Abe was carried dying into his own home.

Some of the party hurried to Waynesboro and got doctors. Doctors Croft, Thomas and others were taken to the Barnes place but he died at a few minutes past noon. He was conscious before he died and told those about him that he had shot Daywalt but had not intended to kill him. They did not know if he was dead, or how badly he was hurt until after Abe was shot and carried into his house.

After Abe breathed his last the brother was taken to Waynesboro and given a hearing, being held without bail.

JURY IS GIVEN BITTINGER CASE

Trial of First Case against John R.
Bittinger Involving Claim for Coal Sold in 1907 is Completed. Goes to the Jury.

The case of the Percy Heilner Company vs John R. Bittinger, trading as the Bittinger Lime Company, went to the jury this morning. The plaintiff claims $891 and interest of $200 for coal sold in 1907.

On March 1, 1907, John R. Bittinger, who was the owner of the Bittinger Lime Company, sold the business to his sons, E. M. and LeRoy Bittinger, who continued the business at the same place under the same name and the plaintiff contended that notice of this change was not given to them and that they furnished the coal to the Bittinger Lime Company, without knowing of such change and relying upon the responsibility of John R.
Bittinger as the supposed owner thereof, with whom they had dealt a year or so before. This credit, they claimed, was given to the Bittinger company on the strength of the financial standing of John R. Bittinger.
It was further developed at the trial that the sons of John R. Bittinger failed and that the plaintiff company proved its claim against the bankrupt company.

The defense claimed that notice of the change in the business was given to all persons dealing with John R.
Bittinger at the time and to the Dun and Bradstreet agencies; that the plaintiff's salesman was informed of the proposed change and that the plaintiff should have been aware of the business change; that it must have known because it filed its proof of claim against the sons when they failed in business in 1908.

John D. Keith and William Hersh Esqrs. represented the plaintiff and Charles Duncan Esq., of Gettysburg; Henry C. Niles Esq., of York, and Charles E. Ehrenhart Esq., of Hanover, represented the defendant.

Three other similar cases, in addition to the one concluded this morning, are listed for trial and practically the same issue is involved in each.
The Percy Heilner Company is not concerned in the other cases.

Educators of note have been secured to address the annual convention of the school directors of Adams County to be held in the Court House on Thursday and Friday of next week.
They include Dr. Nathan C. Schaeffer, state superintendent of public instruction; Ried B. Teitrick, deputy state superintendent; and Ely M. Rapp, superintendent of the public schools of Berks County.

Dr. Schaeffer, who has been a more or less frequent visitor to Gettysburg and always delights his audience, will make two addresses, the first on "Bible Reading in the Public Schools" and the second on "Moral Training."

Mr. Teitrick has addressed various meetings in this county in previous years and is known as an entertaining and forceful speaker as well as an authority in matters educational. His subjects will be "Waste in Education" and "Standards of Administration."

Superintendent Rapp will make three addresses during the course of the convention, his subjects being "The Country Life Movement", "Standard One Room Schools", and "Requisites of a Good Director."

On Thursday evening, as a special attraction, Superintendent Roth has secured Dr. W. Quay Roselle, who is described as an "orator, philosopher and humorist". He is a man who has earned the highest praise at various places that he had appeared and his subject here will be "The University of Adversity". There will be special musical numbers at this evening session.

Friday evening an educational meeting will be held at Littlestown day a rally of the teachers of the county will be held and lectures will be delivered by these two speakers.

Teachers of the county who expect to attend are asked to notify Prof. C. A.
Fisher at Littlestown immediately.

was a week-end visitor with his son-in-law, H. C. Raffensperger, in this place.

George Culp, of near this place, slaughtered they rendered nine 50 pound cans of lard. The weight of the hogs was given in the Daily Times as 770 and 548 pounds. The weight of the former is the heaviest of any hog known to have been killed in this vicinity.

SUCCESSFUL GETAWAY

No Clue to the Mount Holly Safe Robbers.

So far no clue as to the identity or place of hiding of the men who on Monday night dynamited the safe at the Mount Holly post office has been found. The men seem to have vanished completely and have left no clues that would lead to their arrest.

Officers and agents of the postal service are on the lookout for any persons offering stamps for sale or trying to dispose of the proceeds of the robbery but as no description of the men can be given or anything learned of the route taken after leaving the town, it is likely that the chase will be a long one.

dustry and when he trimmed his maple trees last week hung buckets on the ends of the limbs and caught the sap.
He caught several gallons of the fluid tempt to secure enough sugar to last next summer.

BOUNTY MONEY NEWS

Won't Pay Bounties for Animals Killed after July 25, 1913.

No bounties for noxious animals or birds killed after July 25, 1913, will be paid by the Auditor General's Department and all of the payments now being made to counties in reimbursement for bounties on the scalps of wildcats, foxes and other beasts and birds are for killings before that date.

The reason for this ruling is that the hunters' license law took effect on that date. Under the law half of the income from hunters licenses is to be devoted to the payment of bounties, but the Legislature failed to make the proper appropriation of the income from that source, and all payments are now being made out of an appropriation to cover deficiencies.

RUSHING ARMS TOWARD BORDER

der Raising Embargo.

MEXICO CITY IS QUIET

Huerta Declares He Will Not Sever Relations With U. S. or Change Attitude Towards Americans.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Following the action in raising the embargo on the shipments of arms to Mexico from the United States, the administration promptly reverted to its policy of "watchful waiting."

It was indicated at the state department that there is no further step in contemplation and that this government will sit back and wait for the Constitutionalists to do the work of ridding the country of Huerta and his government.

Apprehension that the announcement of the raising of the embargo would result in disorders in Mexico City and attacks on Americans were largely dispelled with the receipt of unofficial reports that the situation remained quiet in the Mexican capital.
Huerta is reported to have told Charge O'Shaughnessy that he would not ask him to leave the country, and that he would take no action in retaliation against the United States government.

This assurance was regarded as confident and little fear, if any, is now entertained of disorders in Mexico City as a result of the president's action. Mr. O'Shaughnessy has reported that the city is quiet and that no disorders are feared.

Constitutionalist agents in Washington are much elated over the president's action. It was said that about 4,000,000 rounds of rifle ammunition are already on the frontier and will be sent across the line at once. Large quantities of ammunition are at New
Additional orders for ammunition and for carbines will be placed in New York, though revolutionist agents in Washington have refused to give de-

Huerta and American Charge Hold
Two Long Conferences.

Mexico City, Feb. 5.—President Wilson's determination to give both factions in Mexico liberty to obtain war material from the United States will not cause Provisional President Huerta to deliver to Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the American charge d'affaires, his assurances; nor will it affect in any way his attitude toward the United States or toward Americans in Mexico.
This assurance was given by Huerta.

The Mexican dictator made practically no other comment on the action of President Wilson, to which he appeared to attach little importance.
O'Shaughnessy called on Huerta, but the question of lifting the embargo on arms was mentioned only incidentally and briefly, according to O'Shaughnessy.

They were together half an hour, and President Huerta reiterated to O'Shaughnessy the declaration that President Wilson's action would not cause him to adopt retaliatory measures. He assured O'Shaughnessy that he had in the capital a sufficient number of troops to suppress any anti-American demonstration that might arise.

O'Shaughnessy, with his secretary, Parker, went to the national palace again and conferred with Huerta and Ministers Moseno and Lozano.

The conference was followed by a summons from Huerta, calling a cabinet meeting. Palace attaches said the entire situation then would be gone over carefully. This announcement was followed by conflicting rumors that Huerta would resign or that he would give O'Shaughnessy his passports.
Both were immediately denied by government officials.

BURNED TESTING CURE

New Heat Remedy For Rheumatism
Exploded.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 5.—Testing out a new "heat cure" for rheumatism at their home at Schuykill Haven, Mr.
and Mrs. Lincoln Krammes were both badly burned, the latter critically.

They were about to use a gasolene oven and had lighted the inflammable fluid, when suddenly there was an explosion which scattered the flaming fluid in all directions.

Mrs. Krammes was burned about the head, neck, face and hands, besides in-vailing the fire. Her husband escaped with painful but superficial burns. The tove was shattered.

Chester, Pa., Feb. 5.—An increase of 10 per cent in wages to all who sign the pledge is the offer before the employees of the Philadelphia Quartz company here. Indications are that nearly all the 300 employees will accept this newest industrial experiment and find the fruits of their moderation in their next pay envelope.

Appointed After Direct Elections Becomes a Law.

Washington, Feb. 5.—By a majority of one vote—32 to 31—Frank P. Glass, of Alabama, editor of the Birmingham News, lost his fight for a seat in the United States senate.

The vote sustained the recommendation of the committee on privileges and elections, which held that Mr.
Glass was not entitled to the seat because his appointment by Governor O'Neal to succeed the late Senator Joseph F. Johnson was made after the seventeenth constitutional amendment directing election of senators by the people had been proclaimed in effect.

Spirited and at times bitter debate marked the close of the case, the second of which the senate has settled involving interpretation of the constitutional amendment.

Senator Blair Lee, of Maryland, who was seated a few days ago on recommendation of the elections committee, made his maiden speech in favor of Mr. Glass and later cast his vote for him.

PLAN CROSS-SEA TRIP

Curtiss Building Flying Boat to Make 1900-Mile Trip.

New York, Feb. 5.—Rodman Wanamaker and Glenn H. Curtiss have planned a transatlantic flight from Newfoundland to the Irish coast—1900 miles—to be made in a specially constructed 200-horsepower flying boat operated by an English army officer and a United States army flyer.

Mr. Curtiss is constructing the machine and Mr. Wanamaker is financing the expedition. The craft is designed to make the trip at an altitude of 10,000 feet in twelve or fifteen hours.

The event will be under the auspices of the Aero Club of America.

YOUNG GIRL POISON VICTIM

Said to Have Been Sent Home After Eloping With Traveling Man.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 5.—Ruth Schoffstall, sixteen years old, of Tremont, was found on a porch at Pine Grove, with an empty poison bottle by her side and died an hour later.

traveling man on Tuesday and was caught by a relative and sent home from Pine Grove. She again left her home on an early train.

Several months ago she ran away with a moving picture man and was caught in Dauphin county. The man is now serving an eighteen months' jail

Thieves Steal a "Raphael."

Morristown, N. J., Feb. 5.—When
the housekeeper at the home of the Misses Margaret and Susan Hawes came down stairs she discovered that thieves had cut from its frame in the library a Madonna, ascribed to Ra-phael, which the sisters obtained in Europe years ago. Nothing else in the house was touched. The picture had been removed adroitly, apparently by experts, who knew its value.

NO HALL OF FAME FOR McDEVITT

Congress Denies Place to "Millionaire-For-a-Day."

DEDICATORY SPEECH N. C.

Get Place For Statue and He Objected to "Cashing In."

Washington, Feb. 5.—In a rough box much the same as undertakers use, John ("Butch") McDevitt, who spent $3000 in a futile attempt to get congress and the nation to accept a statue of his pink-haired and freckled self, shipped back to Wilkes-Barre, Pa., the McDevitt in bronze he had hoped to leave behind to keep company with the marble and bronze statues of the nation's famous.

the capitol with all the pomp of a foreign ambassador, beat it back to the coal fields, congress having refused his statue.

There was nothing for "Butch" to do but sing "Back, Back, Back to Baltimore," thence back to Philadelphia and home.

The "one-day millionaire" was crestfallen, and almost "cattle-trained" it back, packing his shapely self and the twenty-one others of his party into an overcrowded day coach.

With the bulk of his bank roll gone and the holes once more showing themselves in his pockets, Jawn Jay could not come across with the long green for "extras."

In the baggage coach ahead rested the boxed statue of Jawn, and it went back as common express, there being no waiting crowds en route to cheer
the original or the plaster cast.

crowd of 3000 people at Seventh and C streets and under the shadow of the G. A. R. monument, the "busted millionaire" delivered his farewell address.

Major Sylvester, head of the Washington police, met a committee of Mc-Devitt's friends and agreed to permit
"Butch" to make his getaway speech, but he refused "Butch" the right to parade his statue exposed to public view, and John Jay was unable to deliver the dedicatory address which he had rehearsed for weeks and which he believed was to take rank with Lincoln's address at Gettysburg.

His departure stirred up considerable curiosity and when he left his hotel the porters were forced to beat back a few thousand persons who craned their necks and stood on their toes for a parting glimpse at the beetle-like face of "Jawn."

McDevitt made no splurge in his trip down the avenue and with no hand to announce his coming, he passed almost unnoticed until he came to Market Square, where he was to make his final dip for fame.

The police opened a way for his automobile. McDevitt stood on the seat of the car and in five minutes said all he had to say.

"Butch" provoked a laugh when he
to die to get his statue in the hall of fame, and because he is not willing
statue was still on his hands. He told the crowd that he had a gay old time, anyway.

"When I get home," he said, "the old man (meaning his father, Charles
leave my statue in the capitol. I'll have to tell him congress would not take it, and the old man will suggest that I take it to Ireland. That is not a bad idea. When I get another bank roll I'll take the statue to Ireland and offer it to a people who will appreciate greatness and genius."

"I expect to be the next governor of the Keystone State, and if I don't run for governor I'll be a candidate for constable."

JAIL AND FINE FOR CASSIDY

New York Politician Sentenced For Selling Judicial Nomination.

New York, Feb. 5.—Joseph Cassidy, former Democratic boss of Queens county, was sentenced to serve not more than eighteen months and not less than one year in Sing Sing and pay a fine of $1000 for selling the judicial nomination in the county to former Congressman William Willett.

Willett received a similar sentence for buying the nomination. Lewis C.
Walter, Jr., Cassidy's chief lieutenant, was sentenced to three months in the

1000 Ill at Grove City.

Grove City, Pa., Feb. 5.—Nearly 1000 residents of Grove City are suffering from a strange malady which physicians are unable to name. The disease resembles winter cholera and is contagious. Many persons were stricken in church on Sunday and were removed to their homes. Physicians are baffled as to the identity of the disease.

Find Missing Man Again.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 5.—The body of Robert R. Mercer, of Pittsburgh, missing since Dec. 21, was found buried under three feet of earth under the new city hall, now under construction.
His head was covered with his coat, and the police say that Mercer was murdered.

CHARLES F. NILES.

After a 2300 Foot Fall.

© 1914, by American Press Association

Charles F. Niles, the young aviator tried to "loop the loop" in an aero-plane at Garden City and failed. But he accomplished a greater aerial feat than the loop would have been. Niles ascended for 2300 feet in long spiral curves and then tried the loop. As he went well with him until the aeroplane was pointed straight up in the air, then the gasoline drained away from the engine and it stalled. The aero-plane, bereft of its power, shot down toward the earth for 1400 feet, the foremost; then it turned over and fell for another thousand feet, with its tail pointing straight upward. From this peril Niles saved himself by manipulating his levers, rapidly, but the momentum of the aeroplane was so great that it added to one side, an experienced aviator, watching on the ground ran for the protection of the "bangers," expecting the machine to plunge to the earth. The picture shows the aviator and machine coming down

Democrats Against National Act For Votes For Women.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The Democratic party was formally placed on record as opposed to national legislation conferring the right of suffrage on women, by the majority leader, Representative Oscar W. Underwood, on the floor of the house.

This came as a sequel to the action of the Democratic house caucus in voting down, by 127 to 57, the proposal to create a committee on woman suffrage and the declaration of President Wilson to two delegations of woman suffragists that he could do nothing to aid their cause.

Underwood declared he believed with his party, that the suffrage question was for the states and not for national government to determine.

Representative Lenroot, Republican, injected the question into the house debate by asking Underwood whether he would use his influence to have reported a resolution for a suffrage committee, an action which the Democratic caucus had refused to take.

"Will the gentleman use his influence to have that resolution reported so that the house may vote on it?" demanded Lenroot.

"I will not," replied Underwood,
"because I am not in favor of it. I there is one principle my party stand for, it is local self-government. If there is one single question that the Democratic party is committed to it is that the franchise should be controlled by the individual states."

Hope of votes for women through a constitutional amendment was placed in the women of the west by the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage.
It was announced that the union would turn to the women of ten western states having a vote, through the National Council of Women Voters for support in their demand for the amendment.

Scotch Ballads Her Favorites

The more one studies the biography of eminent musicians, whether composers or artists, the more the universality of the divine art is emphasized.
No one country or clime seems ever to have been able to have a monopoly of music. In far-off Melbourne, Australia, Nellie Mitchell Melba was born.
Her musical career was determined early in life and she gave up the family name of Mitchell when she made her debut after studying with Marchesi in Paris. Her debut in Brussels in "Rigoletto" was the occasion when the name "Melba" suggestive of Melbourne, her native city, was first used.
In European musical centers her voice captivated her hearers, whether cultivated or uncultivated in music.
Her American tours were successive triumphs, and when the enthusiasm of the audience was at its height there was a swelling of hearts when her beautiful tones rendered "Robin Adair" or "Mary of Argyle." Her favorite selections or encores seemed to be the Scotch ballads—ballads that were especially popular among her home people in early childhood.

"Robin Adair" and "Mary of Argyle" are both to be found in "Heart Songs", the famous song book now being offered by this paper at what might be called the price of printing.
We cannot endorse too emphatically the wonderful opportunity to obtain a song collection that will give pleasure for years, for practically the publisher's cost.

A LONG COAT TO SLIP ON OVER THE MATINEE FROCK

Perhaps more freaks have been launched this season than any one season before, yet we have also had some excellent ideas that were wearable and becoming at the same time.

For coats are mod'ish—in fact, entire costumes of fur are being worn at the moment in Paris—but there are times when one really needs a long, warm coat aside from the fur coat. It is comfortable to wear to a matinee or to the theater in the evening when one does not care to dress elaborately.

In No. 8126 there is shown a kimono design, in which the back extends over the shoulders to form a yoke in front.
The material is dull red duvetyn with collar and cuffs of black plush.

This coat may be copied in size 36 with 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

In No. 8156 a fascinating one-piece dress for a young girl is illustrated.
The material is dull blue serge relieved by a girle of emerald green tulle.
A beaded motif serves to close the belt on the side.

This design may be copied in size 16

What Man Escapes.

Women may have a sense of humor.
But if a man wore a section of elevator cable around his neck, and fastened onto it a can-opener, a young monkey-wrench, an ice-pick, a whiskey-desk, a screw-driver and a sar-dine-can, he wouldn't have nerve enough to call the mess his vanity outfit.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Knew Dr. Bigbill.

"Well, well," said Dr. Bigbill, as he met a former patient on the street.
"I'm glad to see you again, Mr. Brown.
How are you this morning?" "First, doctor," said Mr. Brown, cautiously, "does it cost anything to tell you?"

Great Idea.

Mrs. Willis (at the Ladies' Aid Society)—"Now, what can we do for the poor boys at the front?" Mrs. Willis —"I was reading today where the soldiers are always making sorties.
Now, why can't we get the recipe for those things and make them ourselves and send them to the boys?"—

Why Collections Are Large.

Diamonds in a Vacuum.
A four or five carat diamond, if placed in a vacuum, emits as much light as a candle. And the color of the light varies with its facets. A ruby in a vacuum looks as if it was on fire. An emerald shines with a crimson glow.

One Exception.
Little Mary was coloring pictures with her Christmas set of paints. She used a tint that failed to please and that! However, what's done is done and can't be undone—except shoes how certainly they have failed, I see clearly that only he who lives into truth finds it, and that love alone is immortal.—Hamilou Wright Mable.

der Raising Embargo.

Huerta Declares He Will Not Sever
Relations With U. S. or Change At-

government.

would result in disorders in Mexico
mained quiet in the Mexican capital.
Huerta is reported to have told Charge
against the United States government.

This assurance was regarded as con-
City as a result of the president's action. Mr. O'Shaughnessy has reported that the city is quiet and that no disorders are feared.

ton are much elated over the presi-
cartridges will be placed in New

Two Long Conferences.

son's determination to give both fac-
not cause Provisional President Huer-
ta to deliver to Nelson O'Shaughnessy,
the American charge d'affaires, his passports, nor will it affect in any
States or toward Americans in Mexico.
This assurance was given by Huerta.
The Mexican dictator made practically no comment on the action of President Wilson, to which he appeared to attach little importance.
nessy.

cause him to adopt retaliatory meas-
arise.

O'Shaughnessy, with his secretary,
Ministers Moseno and Lozano.

summons from Huerta, calling a cabi-
give O'Shaughnessy his passports.
Both were immediately denied by government officials.

Exploded.

a new "heat cure" for rheumatism at
their home at Schuykill Haven, Mr.
and Mrs. Lincoln Krammes were both burned, the latter critically.

They were about to use a gasoline stove and had lighted the inflammable liquid, when suddenly there was an
fluid in all directions.

flicting the fire. Her husband escaped
tove was shattered.

Sign Pledge: Get More Pay.

tions Became a Law.

of one vote—32 to 31—Frank P. Glass,
United States senate.

The vote sustained the recommenda-
cause his appointment by Governor
ment directing election of senators by
fect.

marked the close of the case, the second of which the senate has settled involving interpretation of the constitutional amendment.

was seated a few days ago on recommendation of the elections committee,
made his maiden speech in favor of Mr. Glass and later cast his vote for him.

pices of the Aero Club of America.

Said to Have Been sent Home After Eloping With Traveling Man.

Pottsville, Pa., Feb. 5.—Ruth Schoff-
stall, sixteen years old, of Tremont,
was found on a porch at Pine Grove,

home on an early train.

the housekeeper at the home of the Misses Margaret and Susan Hawes
came down stairs she discovered that
aphael, which the sisters obtained in

"Millionaire-For-2-Day."

DEDICATORY SPEECH IN C.

much the same as undertakers use,
$3400 in a futile attempt to get con-
statue of his pink-haired and freckled
self, shipped back to Wilkes-Barre,
hoped to leave behind to keep com-
statues of the nation's famous.

his statue.

There was nothing for "Butch" to do
and home.

overcrowded day coach.

the original or the plaster cast.

C streets and under the shadow of the
G. A. R. monument, the "busted mil-
dress.

Major Sylvester, head of the Washington police, met a committee of Mc-
"Butch" to make his getaway speech,
liver the dedicatory address which he
coln's address at Gettysburg.

erable curiosity and when he left his hotel the porters were forced to beat back a few thousand persons who
toes for a parting glimpse at the best-like face of "Jawn."

band to announce his coming, he passed almost unnoticed until he came to
his final dig for fame.

automobile. McDevitt stood on the
said all he had to say.

the crowd that he had a gay old time, anyway.

old man (meaning his father, Charles
roll I'll take the statue to Ireland and
greatness and genius.

"I expect to be the next governor of

former Democratic boss of Queens

former Congressman William Willett.

for buying the nomination. Lewis C.
Walter, Jr., Cassidy's chief lieutenant,

1000 Ill at Grove City.

Grove City, Pa., Feb. 5.—Nearly 1000
residents of Grove City are suffering
from a strange malady which physi-
in church on Sunday and were removed to their homes. Physicians are
ease.

Find Missing Man Again.

Robert R. Mercer, of Pittsburgh, missing since Dec. 21, was found buried
new city hall, now under construction.
His head was covered with his coat,
murdered.

After a 2300 Foot Fall.

© 1914, by American Press Association

he accomplished a greater aerial feat
ascended for 2300 feet in long spirals curves and then tried the loop. At his tail pointing straight upward. From this peril Niles saved himself by manipulating his levers rapidly, but the momentum of the aeroplanes was so great that it tilted to one side, an
hangars, expecting the machine to

Act For Votes For Women.

as opposed to national legislation conferring the right of suffrage on women, by the majority leader Repre-
floor of the house.

This came as a sequel to the action
voting down, by 127 to 57, the proposato create a committee on woman suffrage and two delegations of women Wilson to the two delegations of women
aid their cause.

with his party, that the suffrage question was for the states and not the

Representative Penroot, Republican,
debate by asking Underwood whether
cratic caucus had refused to take.

ence to have that resolution reported so that the house may vote on it?" demanded Penroot.

"I will not," replied Underwood,
"because I am not in favor of it. If
for, it is local self-government. If

Honed by votes for women through a constitutional amendment was placed in the women of the west by the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage
for support in their demand for the amendment.

of eminent musicians, whether composers or artists, the more the universality of the divine art is emphasized.
music. In far-off Melbourne, Australia, Nellie Mitchell Melba was born.
her debut after studying with March-
"Rigoletto" was the occasion when the name "Melba" suggestive of Melbourne, her native city, was first used.

triumphs, and when the enthusiasm of the audience was at its height there
beautiful tones rendered "Robin Adair" or "Mary of Argyle." Her fa-

gyle" are both to be found in "Heart
might be called the price of printing.
er's cost.

Perhaps more freaks have been launched this season than any one season before, yet we have also had some excellent ideas that were wearable and becoming at the same time.

Fur coats are modish—in fact, entire costumes of fur are being worn at the moment in Paris—but there are times when one really needs a long, warm coat aside from the fur coat. It is comfortable to wear to a matinee or to the theater in the evening when one does not care to dress elaborately.

In No. 8126 there is shown a kimono design, in which the back extends over the shoulders to form a yoke in front. The material is dull red duvetyne with collar and cuffs of black plush.

This coat may be copied in size 36 with 3 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

In No. 8156 a fascinating one-piece dress for a young girl is illustrated. The material is dull blue serge relieved by a girle of emerald green tulle. A beaded motif serves to close the belt on the side.

This design may be copied in size 16 with 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch material.

No. 8126—sizes 34 to 44.
No. 8156—sizes 11 to 18.

What Man Escapes.

Women may have a sense of humor. But if a man wore a section of elevator cable around his neck, and fastened onto it a can-opener, a young monkey-wrench, an ice-pick, a whistle, a screw-driver and a saw-dine-can, he wouldn't have nerve enough to call the mess his vanity outfit.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Knew Dr. Bigbill.

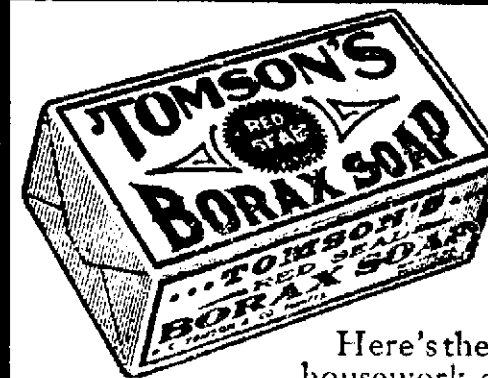

"Well, well," said Dr. Bigbill, as he met a former patient on the street. "I'm glad to see you again, Mr. Brown. How are you this morning?" "First, doctor," said Mr. Brown, cautiously, "does it cost anything to tell you?"

Why Collections Are Large.

A pious old lady of our acquaintance devotes the proceeds from the eggs her hens lay on Sundays to the church. Fortunately for the church nearly all her hens are Sabbath-breakers.

Great Idea.

Mrs. Willis (at the Ladies' Aid Society)—"Now, what can we do for the poor boys at the front?" Mrs. Willis—"I was reading today where the soldiers are always making sorties. Now, why can't we get the recipe for those things and make them ourselves and send them to the boys?"—Puck's Quarterly.

Diamonds in a Vacuum.

A four or five carat diamond, if placed in a vacuum, emits as much light as a candle. And the color of the light varies with its facets. A ruby in a vacuum looks as if it was on fire. An emerald shines with a crimson glow.

One Exception.

Little Mary was coloring pictures with her Christmas set of paints. She used a tint that failed to please and exclaimed: "Oh, I didn't mean to do that! However, what's done is done and can't be undone—except shoe laces."

Truth and Love.

When I remember how earnestly men have striven to think their way into the secrets of the universe, and how certainly they have failed, I see clearly that only he who lives into truth finds it, and that love alone is immortal.—Hamilton Wright Mabie.

London Provided With New Seal.
The official seal of the corporation London was formerly "broken" recently and a new one substituted. The seal had been in constant use for 12 years. It had only one predecessor, which was destroyed in 1381, because it was "too small, rude and ancient." The seal, which was used for the last time on the 1st, was of silver, about the size of a dollar. It is much worn and blurred. It probably was used 1,500 times annually, or 798,000 times altogether.

Evolution of Billiards.
The development of the billiard table has been interesting. In those far back days when billiards seem first to have become an indoor game, a billiard table was about the size of a big room. The average table was 30 feet long and 18 feet wide. The size was gradually and irregularly decreased until the present standard carom table was introduced at a billiard tournament held in Samson hall, Philadelphia, in 1864.

Alabama Advice.
If you have no section harrow, then sell your shotgun and buy one. We are fond of hunting ourselves, but a farmer who is too poor to own a harrow, or a lawyer who is too poor to buy a book, is certainly not in a financial condition to possess the implements of a sportsman. Feel yourself for your fight with fortune, and get a harrow.

On London.
Tourist (in London)—"It certainly took a bunch of bobbies to arrest that silk-batted guy! What did he do?" Cabby—"Why, that bleedin' blither hain't pinched. 'E's a hminent statesman goin' to luncheon!"—Judge.

I will be in Gettysburg next Tuesday at Penrose Myers' Jewelry Store.
